My understanding of coaching:

You will become the best that you can be by unfolding your individual personality with all its potentials, even in immediate challenges. This way, you will maximise your success and your vitality without giving up your individuality.

Using coaching sessions, you will be able to reach a higher level and take a judging perspective when observing your own life, enabling you to set your own priorities more precisely.

Method of operation:

My work is based on partnership, and I love to adjust quickly and individually to different people, offering them a wide but tailor-made coaching repertoire:

- ❖ Precise: my talent is a fast and precise analysis of your individual situation and environment. In the first coaching session, you will receive a written profile of your assets and weaknesses, based on our preliminary talk
- ❖ Pragmatic: my focus lies on the practical implementation of the solutions which I develop together with you
- ❖ Passionate: my job is my vocation. The client's success is my desire. To this end, I keep developing my methods and stay cutting edge.
